Cartier International Tickets Application 2009

The world's greatest spectator polo day will be even greater this year on Sunday 26th July as Cartier celebrates 25 years of sponsorship of this internationally renowned polo event. The main highlight of the day is the afternoon match for the Coronation Cup. This year the England team face a hugely talented team from the home of polo - Argentina. The South Americans have not played in this competition since 2000 and with the world's greatest player, Adolfo Cambiasso, heading up the team, this will definitely be the game of the year in 2009.

Action on the field is not confined to the afternoon though. The extensive England squad will take to the field at 11am to play for the Golden Jubilee Trophy. As the standard of polo is now so high in the UK, this game is the perfect opening for the England International later in the afternoon.

However, Cartier International Day is so much more than polo. Cartier will be celebrating its Silver Jubilee by hosting a gourmet lunch, prepared by Anton Mosimann, for some 600 guests, including many stars of the stage, screen and sport. Visitors to Guards Polo Club on this day also have the opportunity to visit the unique and extensive Retail Village which offers everything from a cooling glass of champagne to a luxury dog bed; from a beautiful polo painting to the very latest Audi.

And the fun does not stop with the umpire's final whistle. Attention moves to the Chinawhite and Smyle Marquees, where many guests can continue to celebrate a first-class day of sport and entertainment for a little while longer.
